

4. I'll answer prayers before people even ask, and I'll listen, too. The world will be at peace, like a wolf and lamb eating side by side or a lion eating straw like an ox. No one will hurt or destroy on my holy mountain.

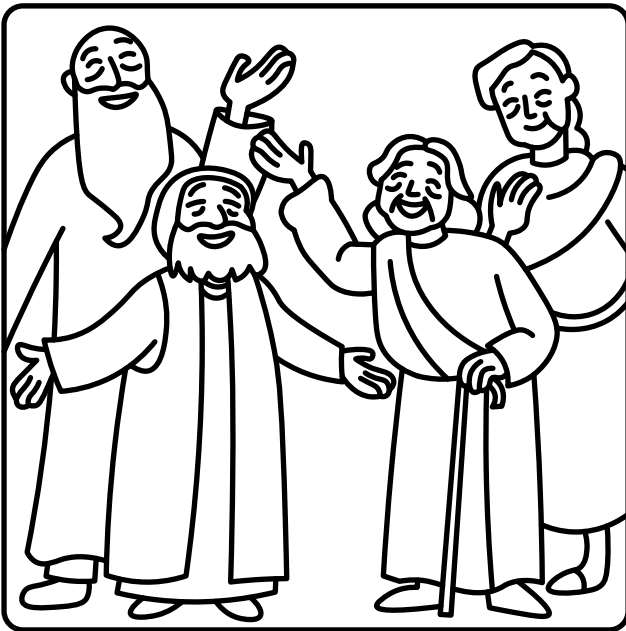

3. People will build houses and live in them. They'll grow gardens and eat the food from them. No one will take these things away from them. Everyone will enjoy what they worked hard for and will have what they need.

1. God said to Isaiah: I'm about to create a new heaven and earth. Rejoice for what is about to come because Jerusalem will be a joy, and the people there will be delightful!

Isaiah 65:17-25

2. There won't be any more crying, and people will live long, full lives! Being one hundred years old will be young. Anything less won't feel long enough!
