

1. The prophet Isaiah shared a message from God that a family member and leader will come to them like a brand new branch growing from its roots.

2. God's spirit will guide this person. This leader will make sure people are cared for, have what they need, and are treated fairly.

4. No one will hurt or destroy anyone or anything else. The whole world will know God's love.

3. Under God's leadership, all animals will live in peace and harmony together. Imagine a wolf and lamb resting, eating, and playing together without fear, and a young child being safe from predators.
